October is the perfect month to celebrate our “Shoe.” It was in October 1920 that the University’s first major fund-raising campaign was held - for a proposed new stadium! The campaign opened with a big parade down High Street and within 3 months had exceeded its million-dollar goal! The mighty Horseshoe Stadium was completed in October 1922 – in time to play Michigan!

Starting in 1889 Ohio State football had been played at Ohio Field – up at the corner of High Street and Woodruff Avenue. When it had opened, President William Oxley Thomson christened the field with a flask of spring water and dedicated the field to “clean athletics.”

In 1916 the wooden bleachers of Ohio Field could seat 14,000 – then Chic Harley came from Columbus East High School to play for Ohio State. He had made quite a name for himself in high school and brought new fans with him. It is said that it was Harley that boosted Ohio’s football to football prominence. In 1916 the request for tickets was double the number that could be seated. Buckeye football had outgrown Ohio Field.

Professor Thomas Ewing French was devoted to athletics and is credited with having fathered the idea of Ohio Stadium.

His first recommendations were to improve old Ohio Field with new bleachers and a concrete wall to enclose the field – then, the dream grew into the huge concrete horseshoe, down on the Olentangy floodplain - and there were the questions about whether the 63,000 new seats would ever be filled!

French had asked Howard Dwight Smith, a professor of architecture, to draw up plans for a horseshoe-shaped stadium – and when 17,000 showed up for the 14,000 seats at Ohio Field for the OSU/Illinois game, French pulled out those drawings and showed them to Athletic Director Lynn St. John. The initial drawings would seat 50,000 – but St. John bumped the number to 60,000 – and Smith, and with the ingenious suspended C Deck, squeezed seating to 63,000.

Greetings to my OSURA colleagues. STRS members should have received the August 2022 STRS Ohio Newsletter. It presents much useful and positive information about our health care program, dental and vision plan premiums, investment and financial news update, and the actuarial audit report. All looks good.

It is welcome that our Ohio Valley autumn weather has cooled down a bit. Thankfully, we have not (yet) experienced record-breaking rainstorms and sewers flooding, as have other regions to the east, south, west, and northwest. There was much property damage, and many residents drowned. Yet in one of the southwest locations, Dinosaur Valley State Park, 40 miles southwest of Fort Worth, Texas, the flood waters of the Paluxy River exposed footprints of Acrocanthosaurus, a 15-foot-tall, 7-ton bipedal dinosaur 113 million years old. A carnivore, it resembled Tyrannosaurus rex.

Enough. Keep healthy and relax about our retirement pensions. If you want to invest at this time, consider CDs. They are paying about 3%.

Fewer than 9,000! Fears were allayed when 72,500 showed up for the dedication game with Michigan, October 21, 1922.

Ohio Stadium has seen interesting changes and evolution over the years.

1933: The stadium housed students, starting in the Great Depression, and evolving into a Scholarship dorm – ending in 2000.

1954: The Victory Bell was installed.

1970: Artificial turf was installed.

1990: Grass was reinstalled.

2000: The major overhaul during which permanent seats replaced the South Stands bleachers, and the track was removed and the field dropped 14 feet – bringing the stadium capacity to 102,780.

There are many sources to learn more about our iconic stadium. The Ohio State website, the Ohio State Alumni Magazine, and the Ohio History Connection Echoes all have special articles this October.

REPORT FROM THE Finance Committee

The last two and a half years have been a challenge for everybody, but OSURA has been able to remain financially stable. COVID and its aftermath forced OSURA to scale back activities, with fewer cultural arts and travel events in the last two fiscal years. Without the registrations, both income and expenses dropped considerably, but we’ve still managed to about break even both years. We are relying more each year on earnings from our endowments, which is now the largest source of our income, so we haven’t had to consider raising dues. Over these two years, we urged OSURA members to donate to the new endowment fund to combat student food insecurity at Ohio State, which impressively reached the required $100,000 last spring. To address inflationary pressures on our budget, we hope that some of the generosity that made the food-insecurity endowment a success will now be directed toward OSURA’s endowment, which can be done on the OSURA web page. Here is a summary of our income and expenses for the fiscal year that ended last June.

* Administration includes accounting fees, liability insurance and Faculty Club dues.

Expenses did slightly exceed income for this fiscal year, but OSURA maintains carryover balances to address conditions like this. Funds set aside for this purpose will allow us to continue services to our members while our endowment income should increase in coming years.

Expect your Bucks for Charity material in the mail very soon!

It is another way to share with the community agencies that make Central Ohio great!

Again last year Retirees were very generous. Of all the units and organizations who gave through Bucks for Charity, retirees were among the three most generous.

OPERS Report

By Darian Torrance

The OPERS Board of Trustees met on August 16, 2022. Highlights from the meeting include:

• The Board voted to certify candidates for the 2022 OPERS Board election. Three candidates are unopposed and will begin new board terms in January 2023. They are: Chris Mabe (State), Ken Thomas (Municipal) and Randy Desposito (College/University.) Two candidates running to represent the Retiree seat are Steve Toth and Ron Wilinski. OPERS has mailed ballots to qualified voters, who can vote for one of these candidates by mail, internet or telephone. The last day for votes to be received is September 30, 2022. Election results will be finalized on October 3, 2022.

• Lai Ye Woo, OPERS Senior Financial Analyst, presented information about the state division employer and member contribution rates for the period 7/1/23-7/30/25. Per the Ohio Revised Code, the Board certifies these rates by November 1 in each even-numbered year. The rates shown below (percentages of payroll) were approved as recommended in the annual actuarial valuation report for the year ended December 31, 2021.

• After a presentation of recommended Board Governance Policy Manual changes by OPERS General Counsel, Eric Harrell, the Board decided not to vote on the changes until the next Board meeting.

• Every five years, the Board must review the administrative rules regarding the OPERS Board of Trustees. The Board voted to approve no changes to the rules which include: Organization; Election of Board Members; and the Board Travel and Expense Reimbursement Policy.

• NEPC, the OPERS Board Investment advisor, presented the investment performance review for the second quarter of 2022. The Defined Benefit Fund, with a market value of $93.77 billion, was down 9.0% (net of fees) for the quarter, and down 7.4% over the past year. The Health Care 115 Fund, with a market value of $11.9 billion, was down 12.0% (net of fees) for the quarter and over the past year. Defined Contribution Fund assets fell from $2.50 billion at the beginning of the year to $2.08 billion at the end of the second quarter.

• NEPC provided the Board with education about private debt investments. “Private debt is a source of investment capital provided by institutions and high net worth individuals for the purposes of acquiring interests in companies and/or products.” The Board is considering whether to include private debt in the investment portfolio in future years.

• Gabriel, Roeder, Smith & Company (GRS), OPERS Actuarial consultant, provided Retiree Health Actuarial Valuation and Projection results as of December 31, 2021 to the Board. Assuming an annual investment return of 4%, the Health Care Fund will be solvent until 2051 unless another source of funding is found. Based on actuarial assumptions, “It will take 2% of payroll to fund the present retiree health plan beyond 2051.”

• OPERS’ staff provided a report of accomplishments and an update on initiatives from the Board strategic planning sessions.

STRS Report

By Jerry Newsom

Here’s an interesting question. Suppose you hire a group to invest a slug of money in the stock market, and after a year or two this group achieved an average return of +13%, while other managers at the same time averaged +14%. You then hire a different group to manage the money and their return is a low -3%, but the average of other managers is even worse, -4%. You have to pick one group to receive a bonus for good management. Do you pick the first group because of their higher return, even though it was below average? Or the second group, for beating most other managers in a down market? (My personal feeling is you reward those who do better than the competition, not necessarily those who got a good return because they were lucky enough to be in bull market for which they could claim no responsibility.) This was the essence of the very public dispute at the August STRS Board meeting, as reported in newspapers and radio and TV news broadcasts. STRS has had a policy...
Meet Walt Bauer!

I grew up in Urbana, Ohio and graduated from HS in 1957 and from Capital University in 1961. The Army wanted me, but I joined the Air Force instead, as a second lieutenant. I studied meteorology at Texas A&M – 40 semester hours of meteorology in 12 months – and in 1963, became a weather officer at Wright Patterson AFB. In 1964, I was on temporary duty from the Air Force to the U. S. Navy, on Operation Deep Freeze and spent three months as a weather forecaster in New Zealand and Antarctica. One day I flew on a U. S. Navy C-130 to the South Pole and back. The temperature was only minus 36° F, warm day for the pole!

At the end of 1968, I enrolled at OSU, earning an MBA in finance in 1970. I worked first for DuPont and then Bank One (now Chase) before starting my career at OSU in December 1974. My first position was business manager for human resources, purchasing and budgeting in the Office of Registration Services in Bricker Hall. In 1976, the department moved to Lincoln Tower and I had an office that overlooked the Horseshoe. On warm, sunny days, I loved hearing the marching band practice.

In 1984, I transferred to the Office of Academic Affairs as fiscal officer and coordinated fiscal matters with colleges, schools, and departments that reported directly to OAA. I loved working on budgets each year and trying to match available funds with current needs. On July 1st, the first day of the fiscal year, I liked to greet people with “Happy New Fiscal Year!” and I received many funny looks.

My final position at Ohio State was director of fiscal affairs for University Technology Services in 1996. Reorganizing of services and budgets as part of the management team took four or five years to complete but resulted in the formation of the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO). In 2005, after 30 years of service, I retired.

In retirement, I have been busy with activities I have always enjoyed. Music has always been important in my life. I have played clarinet, piano, bass drum and even the glockenspiel. I have sung in church choirs for more than fifty years. My wife (Faith) and I were original members of the Ohio Village Singers at Ohio Village, Columbus, and sang with them for over 40 years. (A highlight was joining with the Columbus Children's Choir in 1998 for a two-week river cruise on the Volga River in Russia, singing at a different town almost every night.)

Additionally, I delivered Meals on Wheels and was a tax preparer for an AARP program for low-income people for many years. Stamp collecting has been a hobby for over 70 years, and I am the current treasurer for the Columbus Philatelic Club.

Genealogy is another interest that I have pursued for the past 15 years. My ancestry is almost all Mennonite or Amish. All 32 of my 3rd great-grandparents were born in Pennsylvania!

OSURA has been very important to me in keeping in touch with former colleagues. Ohio State was a great place to work, and I’ve made many friends over the years. The annual OSURA conference each September has been a great event! All in all, I feel that I have been a most fortunate person. Besides great places to work, I have had wonderful parents, a loving wife and the best children and grandchildren one could ever be blessed to have. Thanks be to God!
